<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Course Code</th>
<th>Course Title</th>
<th>Credits</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>ASGE 0701</td>
<td>Master's Comprehensive Exam/Assessment.</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>Master's comprehensive exam or assessment for programs in the Division of Educational Leadership, Administration, and Policy.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ASGE 0705</td>
<td>HRE Master's Comprehensive Exam.</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>Master's comprehensive exam or assessment for programs in the Division of Educational Leadership, Administration, and Policy.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ASGE 0900</td>
<td>Maintenance of Matriculation.</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>Maintenance of Matriculation.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ASGE 0901</td>
<td>Fundamentals of Educational Administration and Management.</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>Doctoral comprehensive exam or assessment for programs in the Division of Educational Leadership, Administration, and Policy.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ASGE 0999</td>
<td>Proposal Acceptance.</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>During the semester the dissertation proposal is completed.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ASGE 5112</td>
<td>Fundamentals of Educational Administration and Management.</td>
<td>1-3</td>
<td>A basic course dealing with the role of the school-based administrator in the administration of schools. The course takes up issues related to account management issues, school effectiveness, human resources, communications, and human relations.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ASGE 5119</td>
<td>Fundamentals of Educational Supervision.</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>Considers the human, technical, educational, and moral aspects of supervision; possible arrangements and alternatives for supervision; effective practices in supervision; and needed involvement of supervision in school restructuring. Students will consider curricula, pedagogy, professional development and evaluation as part of this course.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ASGE 5902</td>
<td>Management of Continuing and Adult Education Programs.</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>This course is designed to provide an understanding of current behavior concepts, theories, and processes of management and supervision as applied to adult-education organizations and agencies.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ASGE 6105</td>
<td>HR I: The Generalist.</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>This course begins the program, introducing current issues faced by organizations and by HR departments in particular. We examine those functions typically enacted by HR generalists, including recruitment and retention, employee relations, and legal issues germane to HR (e.g., ADA, AFMA, OSHA, fire-at-will, sexual harassment).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ASGE 6110</td>
<td>HR II: The Specialist.</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>This course explores the functions typically enacted by HR specialists, including benefits, compensation, succession planning, and labor relations.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ASGE 6130</td>
<td>Instructional Leadership.</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>Development of leadership in optimal staff performance and emphasis on factors that facilitate learning. Students will develop understand their role as instructional leaders using formal and informal observation protocols and practice assessing lessons using a variety of rubrics.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ASGE 6132</td>
<td>Organizational Behavior.</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>Focuses on social/psychological forces influencing the behavior of the individual. Topics include communication, perception, motivation, attitudes, values, adult development, leadership, power, and influence.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ASGE 6145</td>
<td>Leading in a Diverse Society.</td>
<td>1-3</td>
<td>Provides understanding and knowledge of the various cultural and ethnic groups in America and how they have impacted society and vice versa; explores concepts, issues, and dilemmas related to a multicultural, diverse society from both a historical and contemporary perspective; develops strategies to understand dynamics of the school community; and proposes solutions to meet challenges of a diverse society.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
ASGE 6361. Strategic Planning/Change. (3 Credits)
The basic elements and dynamics of planned change are examined. Emphasis is on strategies for achieving change in urban schools, including examples of successful innovation. The course focuses on how school leaders use data and budgets to drive their instruction plans in a K–12 environment.

ASGE 6362. Understanding and Managing Change. (3 to 4 Credits)
Students learn to scan the internal and external environments to identify challenges and constraints, to understand stakeholders’ investments in maintaining or challenging the status quo, to understand and manage change in the context of various change models, and to align business strategies with organizational systems and structures.

ASGE 6371. Hist & Descr Research. (3 Credits)
Techniques in the use of archival materials, primary sources, and secondary publications will be taught in the framework of educational policy research.

ASGE 6461. Critical Issues in Educational Leadership. (0 to 3 Credits)
This course synthesizes research on enduring and emerging issues in administration and supervision, including retrenchment, special education, finance, and desegregation.

ASGE 6520. Internship I. (3 Credits)
Systematic observation and planned participation in the administrative and supervisory activities of an urban or suburban school. Application must be submitted to the division chairperson by the end of the second month of the semester preceding internship.

ASGE 6521. Internship II. (3 Credits)
Systematic observation and planned participation in the administrative and supervisory activities of an urban or suburban school. Application must be submitted to the division chairperson by the end of the second month of the semester preceding internship.

ASGE 6531. Clinic for School Administrators. (1.5 to 3 Credits)
This clinic course provides a university setting in which present and prospective administrators can consider current issues, problems, and opportunities in contemporary school systems.

ASGE 6532. Seminar for Nonpublic School Administrators. (1 to 3 Credits)
This is an individualized, project-centered course in which participants will bring together multiple understandings and competencies developed in earlier courses and focus them in a synthetic way on a major problem or issue.

ASGE 6541. Perspectives on Leadership. (3 Credits)
This course is designed to expose participants to various theories of leadership, to have them examine their own experience in working with a leader, to have them probe their own sources of motivation in seeking to exercise leadership, and to have them develop specific leadership skills and approaches in becoming accountable school leaders.

ASGE 6620. Advanced Statistics in Administration and Supervision. (3 Credits)
Covers statistical inference and prediction in research in educational leadership, administration, and policy, including parametric and nonparametric methods, and concepts of measurement and probability.

ASGE 6720. Program Evaluation and Research in Administration and Supervision I. (3 Credits)
Focuses on the nature of research as it applies to studies in educational leadership, administration, and policy. Includes the development of research topics and the selection of appropriate ways to investigate these topics. Students will learn how to use data to drive instruction.

ASGE 6720. Program Evaluation and Research in Administration and Supervision I. (3 Credits)
Focuses on the nature of research as it applies to studies in educational leadership, administration, and policy. Includes the development of research topics and the selection of appropriate ways to investigate these topics. Students will learn how to use data to drive instruction.

ASGE 6730. Program Evaluation and Research in Administration and Supervision II. (3 Credits)
Focuses on the nature of research as it applies to studies in educational leadership, administration, and policy. Includes the development of research topics and the selection of appropriate ways to investigate these topics. Students will learn how to use data to drive instruction.

ASGE 7320. Data Analysis & Accountability. (3 Credits)
School administrators are challenged to manage and analyze data to inform instruction and improve student performance. This course teaches the use of data for setting goals, monitoring progress and using data warehousing—thus holding educators accountable for results. Students will analyze and share data in "data cycle" format to inform educators and the public regarding what they receive from the district and/or read in the print and electronic media.

ASGE 7333. Data Inquiry and Analysis. (3 Credits)
This course is designed to develop students’ skills in investigating various sources of quantitative and qualitative data (including large-scale data sets) to explore the complexity of problems of practices, investigate variations in performance within and among groups, and apply data analysis for school accountability, improvement, and reform.

ASGE 7428. Seminar in Leadership. (3 Credits)
Students in this advanced seminar investigate topics and issues in leadership. This course involves the exploration of theoretical frameworks as a means of interpreting problems from the field and suggesting leadership responses to these problems.

ASGE 7429. Social Theories and Educational Institutions. (3 Credits)
This is an in-depth analysis of social theories and their implications for the restructuring of educational and other social institutions. The course focuses on structural-functional theory and other theories and their contemporary critics.

ASGE 7430. Leadership in Educational Policy and Reform. (3 Credits)
In this course, students will deepen their understanding of educational policy and their skills in analyzing and responding to policy challenges as educational leaders and scholars. To gain an understanding of how education policies evolve, students will examine and analyze the political, economic, social, and philosophical processes that contribute to its development, implementation, analysis, and evaluation.

ASGE 7431. Administration and Supervision Seminar. (3 Credits)
An advanced seminar in administration and supervision; exploration and study of comprehensive professional concerns.

ASGE 7432. Seminar in Organizational Theory. (3 Credits)
Focuses on application of organizational theory to school administration. Theories of Weber, Argyris, McGregor, Etzioni, and others will be examined.

ASGE 7435. Strategic Thinking, Planning, and Implementation. (3 Credits)
Every organization needs to grow, and today’s organizations need to do so in a competitive and ever-changing environment. The heart of the change process is in the strategy the organization selects to move forward. In this course, students learn to understand their industry, the competition, and their organization's core competencies and values. They learn strategic models, including those of Michael Porter, Treacy and Wiersma, Hamel and Prahalad, Kim and Mauborgne, and Richard D'Aveni. Using Nadler and Tushman's model for Congruence, they learn to align their organizations with the chosen strategy.
ASGE 7436. Transforming Schools, Districts, and Communities. (3 Credits)
Through this course, students explore theory, research, and professional practice in engaging and transforming schools, districts, and communities, particularly to support school improvement and student learning. The course will also explore resource acquisition, management, and use in support of student learning and related political and systems issues.

ASGE 7439. Advanced Seminar for Nonpublic School Administration. (1 or 3 Credits)
This course provides advanced study of administration in nonpublic schools. Issues of finance, curriculum, personnel, physical plant, instruction, and community relations are covered.

ASGE 7440. Seminar in Organizational Behavior. (1 to 3 Credits)
This course focuses on individuals and groups in the organization and on both the micro and macro perspectives of their behavior. The perspective, historical background, methodology, and theoretical framework for the field of organizational behavior will be presented. The emphasis will be on developing leaders with a vision that reflects an understanding of the social and psychological forces influencing the behavior of the individual in organizations and the dynamics, processes, and structures of organizational behavior.

ASGE 7442. Leading Organizational Change. (3 Credits)
This course focuses on the nature of discontinuous change and on managing the paradoxes of change including chaos and order. Several current theories of change will be presented and applied to students’ organizational settings. The emphasis will be on developing leadership skills for crafting a vision, mission, and strategic plan for change, as well as for aligning the organization behind the vision.

ASGE 7444. Leading a Learning Organization. (3 Credits)
This course examines the principles of leadership in a learning organization by exploring theory, research, and practice as related to schools and districts. The course provides opportunities for students to integrate theory and research with practice through simulated experiences, group discussions, reading, observations, interviews, action research, and case studies.

ASGE 7445. Leading Instructional Improvement. (3 Credits)
This course focuses on the practice of instructional improvement in schools and school systems, where “improvement” is defined as increasing the equity and quality of instructional practice and student learning over time. The course equips students with skills in observing, analyzing, and understanding teaching and learning that can be coupled with decisions about how to manage and support learning in the PK–12 sector.

ASGE 7446. Seminar in Organizational Culture, Learning, and Change. (1 to 3 Credits)
This course focuses on the nature of organizational culture: how it comes into being, how to shape a culture, and how to change a culture. Students explore the role of leadership and use of a systems perspective in creating, shaping, and changing organizational culture.

ASGE 7448. Seminar in Ethics and Social Justice. (1 to 3 Credits)
Through this course, students develop an ability to discuss and clarify ethical issues and to gain an understanding of ethical issues within organizations. The course helps students develop policies and strategies to address ethical issues within their organizations, with regard to their clients, and within the civic communities in which they are located.

ASGE 7449. Introduction to Inquiry and Improvement Science. (3 Credits)
This course provides an overview to scholarly inquiry and practice, and develops foundational knowledge about research design and methods, reviewing research studies and reading peer reviewed research, research ethics and basic concepts in designed-based research and improvement science.

ASGE 7450. Seminar in the Spirituality of Leadership. (3 Credits)
This course focuses on the nature of spirituality and on leading the building of community within organizations. The course will explore spirituality as it basically relates to education. Throughout the course, spirituality will be differentiated from formal religion. The spiritual dimension of educational practice will be presented as it pertains to building community with educators, families, organizations, and cultures.

ASGE 7460. Community of Inquiry 1: Framing Problems of Practice. (1 Credit)
In this initial course, students begin to identify their problem of practice, learn attributes of universal problems, investigate how to differentiate the problem for various groups, and how to collaborate with others to define and investigate their problem.

ASGE 7461. Community of Inquiry 2: Innovative Solutions. (1 Credit)
In this second-year course, students explore tools and practices for creative problem-solving and conflict resolution, particularly in addressing complex challenges or capitalizing on opportunities for improvement, with a focus on generating solutions for their proposed problem of practice.

ASGE 7470. Design-Based Methods and Improvement Science in Education. (3 Credits)
This course moves students from exploring problems of practice to identifying, designing, and planning for the implementation of promising solutions to address these problems. Specifically, students will investigate and apply design-based and improvement-science methods to address a significant educational problem. Students will develop a design-based research prototype, seek implementation support, develop readiness for change and buy-in, and start their innovation.

ASGE 7471. Implementation Research and Program Evaluation. (3 Credits)
This course provides preparation and guidance on implementation research and program evaluation. Students learn how to monitor implementation and conduct program evaluation, particularly for their dissertation of practice. The course addresses theoretical, organizational change and practical issues, and prepares students to conduct an implementation study and program evaluation and communicate the results.

ASGE 7530. Clinical Practice in Administration and Supervision. (3 Credits)
This course provides students with applied field experiences designed to work out solutions to particular problems of practice.

ASGE 7531. Advanced Qualitative Research. (3 Credits)
This course offers students the opportunity to engage in field research activities that focus on initial research design, data collection, and analysis.

ASGE 7721. Applied Quantitative Research Methods. (3 Credits)
In this course, students develop individual research proposals, using quantitative methods and design, in preparation for their dissertation seminar.

ASGE 7731. Research in Administration and Supervision II. (3 Credits)
Continue development of conceptualizing research questions with emphasis on qualitative methodology.
ASGE 8001. Research Apprenticeship. (0 Credits)
ASGE 8505. Directed Research in Educational Leadership, Administration, and Policy. (1 to 3 Credits)
Designed for students who are developing research problems or projects for their doctoral studies.

ASGE 8750. Dissertation Seminar: Educational Leadership, Administration, and Policy. (3 Credits)
Seminar for advanced Doctor of Education candidates in the Division of Educational Leadership, Administration, and Policy who have completed all of their coursework. The purpose of the seminar is to assist students in developing an approved dissertation proposal.

ASGE 8751. Dissertation Seminar: Educational Leadership, Administration, and Policy, PhD. (3 Credits)
Seminar for advanced Doctor of Philosophy candidates in the Division of Educational Leadership, Administration, and Policy who have completed all of their coursework. The purpose of the seminar is to assist students in developing an approved dissertation proposal.

ASGE 9990. Independent Study. (1 to 4 Credits)
Designed to enable students to study selected topics in depth and to conduct research. For matriculated students only. An outline of the proposed work must be approved by the adviser. Registration requires approval of the professor directing the study, the division chair, and the director of graduate studies.