INDEPENDENT STUDY LAW (INGL)

INGL ADD. STUDY ABROAD - ESADE SPAIN. (12 Credits)

INGL 0101. INDEPENDENT STUDY. (1 Credit)

INGL 0102. INDEPENDENT STUDY - 2 CR.. (2 Credits)

INGL 0103. INDEPENDENT STUDY - 3 CR.. (3 Credits)

INGL 0199. SEMESTER ABROAD: SKKU KOREA. (12 Credits)

INGL 0202. PERSPECTIVES ON DOCTRINAL ANALYSIS. (2 Credits)

This course surveys core U.S. legal doctrine in key areas tested on the Uniform Bar Exam (UBE) which will be administered in New York starting in July of 2016. Core subjects will be reviewed and analyzed and then serve as the foundation for practical application on all components (MBE, MEE, and MPT) of the UBE. Periodic exams throughout the semester and a final exam test students’ knowledge and skills toward success on the UBE. This is a graded, two credit course intended for graduating students who wish to jump start their bar exam preparation. It is not a substitute for a full bar review course. If you have additional questions, please contact Cynthia Juco in the Office of Student Affairs: cjuco@fordham.edu.

Attribute: JD.

INGL 0203. FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES OF NEW YORK LAW. (2 Credits)

Fundamental Principles of New York Law introduces some of the most heavily-tested topics on the New York State Bar Examination to LL.M. students. This class focuses on substantive principles from the perspective of the New York State Bar Examination in: Contract Law, Criminal Law, Evidence, Real Property, Torts, and Domestic Relations. This course is designed to give LL.M. students an opportunity to learn specific topics and technique for the Bar Examination as part of their academic curriculum. Each session is dedicated to one of the six subject matters reviewed in this class. The first hour of every session will focus on the structure of the Bar Examination and various techniques to apply in this class and on the Bar Examination. Coordinated by LLM BAR EXAM, the remaining three hours of each session will be dedicated to a substantive review of the subject matters, taught by specialized lecturers. This class is only open to LL.M. students and available in the fall semester only.

Attribute: LL.M.

INGL 0206. SEMESTER ABROAD - COMILLAS. (12 Credits)

INGL 0260. SJD DISSERTATION DEVELOPMENT I. (10 Credits)

INGL 0262. SJD DISSERTATION DEVELOPMENT II. (10 Credits)

INGL 0263. SJD DISSERTATION DEVELOPMENT III. (10 Credits)

INGL 0264. SJD DISSERTATION DEVELOPMENT IV. (10 Credits)

INGL 0300. GRADUATE THESIS. (3 Credits)

INGL 0301. S.J.D. COLLOQUIUM. (1-2 Credits)

The S.J. D. Colloquium consists of a number of components. First, the Colloquium will introduce doctoral candidates to diverse and sophisticated research technologies that will aid them in the development of their thesis projects. Second, the Colloquium will introduce doctoral candidates to basic strains of legal academic thought that might inform their work. Finally, the Colloquium would provide a forum whereby candidates can discuss their research with their peers and others and elicit feedback on drafts of their work at various stages. The Colloquium is required for all S.J.D. students while in residence. Select Master of Laws students who have demonstrated a strong potential for academic scholarship may be admitted to the Colloquium by special permission. Interested LL.M. candidates interested in attending the seminar should submit a statement of interest, a resume or c.v., and a writing sample in English to Assistant Dean Toni M. Fine at tfine@law.fordham.edu no later than July 15. Please indicate “S.J. D. Colloquium” in the “Re:” line. Registration by permission only.

Attribute: LL.M.

INGL 0311. FASHION LAW CAPSTONE/THESIS. (3 Credits)

Students must seek approval from Anthony Agolia or Pamela A. Golkin-Moro in order to register for this course.

Attributes: FASL, LAWF.

INGL 0312. COMPLIANCE CAPSTONE THESIS. (3 Credits)

Students must seek approval from Anthony Agolia or Alice BrightSky in order to register for this course.

Attribute: LL.M.

INGL 0601. SJD DISSERTATION RESEARCH I. (8 Credits)

INGL 0615. QUANTITATIVE METHODS FOR GRADUATE STUDENTS. (1 Credit)

Quantitative Methods for Graduate Students introduces basic financial concepts and general quantitative reasoning skills that lawyers and compliance officers and other professionals should possess. The instructors, a litigator and a forensic accountant, will use role plays and demonstrations to illustrate these concepts. Students will be evaluated on the basis of a proctored examination. The course will be graded on a Credit/No Credit basis. This course is required for all LLM students in their first semester of enrollment.

Updated: 11-15-2017