ACCOUNTING AND TAXATION

Accounting is the language of business, and Fordham professors help their students to become fluent in that language. Core-level accounting classes give students the basic skills to interpret and analyze financial statements, while upper-level and special-topics courses—such as Corporate and Partnership Taxation, International Accounting, and Ethics in Financial Reporting—let them specialize their knowledge. Fordham’s accounting faculty works with highly motivated students through the university’s chapter of Beta Alpha Psi and routinely coaches teams of undergraduates and graduates in prestigious accounting competitions organized by multinational accounting firms.

Programs

The accounting and taxation area provides coursework to develop sophisticated usage of accounting information and expertise in taxation. It offers courses leading to five degrees:

- M.B.A. in Public Accountancy
- M.B.A. Concentration in Accounting
- M.S. in Professional Accounting
- M.S. in Professional Taxation
- Advanced Certificate in Accounting Advisory
- Advanced Certificate in Auditing and Assurance
- Advanced Certificate in Corporate Taxation
- Advanced Certificate in Individual Wealth Management Taxation

Courses

Area courses, listed in detail in this section, span three broad categories:

- Financial accounting courses that provide an understanding of U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) and International Accounting Standards to develop skills in financial statement preparation and analysis
- Taxation courses that focus on tax research and compliance
- Audit courses that address auditing from financial statement, information technology, ethics, and compliance perspectives
