

COURSE LOAD

The normal course load for a full-time, on-campus student is four or five courses (12 or 15 credits) per trimester. The typical course load for a student enrolled in an online degree program is two to four courses (6 to 12 credits) per term. International students with a student visa must register for a minimum of three courses (9 credits) to be in compliance with the requirements of the F1 visa.

On-campus and online part-time students usually take two courses (6 credits) per trimester, but course loads vary depending upon a student's responsibilities outside the program. A student must register for at least 6 credits to be eligible for loans. Students employed full-time are advised to register for no more than three courses (9 credits) per term.
