

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

---

Fordham's graduate business school awards degrees and advanced certificates only upon completion of the degree requirements set forth in the course bulletin, as specified or qualified in a student's official Academic Advising Sheet. A student should consult an advising dean prior to registering for a final term to be certain that all degree requirements will have been met by the term's end.