UNIVERSITY-WIDE SERVICES

Office of Student Involvement (OSI)
The graduate business school works closely with the University’s Office of Student Involvement (OSI) to provide services such as a New York City resource center; an off-campus housing list; a shuttle service between Fordham campuses; discounted and complimentary tickets to Broadway and Off-Broadway shows; and discount movie tickets. OSI also provides permission for business school offices and student organizations to post notices on floors other than the business floor.

OSI is located at 140 West 62nd Street, Room G33, and its telephone number is 212-636-6250.

Student Involvement Office Hours:
Monday to Thursday 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.
Friday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Library
The Quinn Library, at 140 West 62nd Street, has extensive reference materials, books and most of the important periodicals in the areas of business economics, including The Wall Street Journal and The New York Times available electronically and on microfilm. The staff is available to assist students in their research, and the entire collection is accessible through an online catalog.

The Quinn Library supports in-depth business research through many online databases, including: LexisNexis®, a source of full-text news, business, and legal information; Disclosure Database®, providing comprehensive financial data on publicly traded U.S. and overseas companies; Investext®, a source of company and industry research; and Standard & Poor's Netadvantage, which offers a broad spectrum of company and investment information. These databases can also be accessed off-site.

Computer Centers and Technology Support
The Gabelli School of Business has two dedicated computer centers at 140 West 62nd Street: the Gabelli Trading Room in room 150, and the Teaching and Learning Lab in room 323. Computer centers at the Lincoln Center campus include the Quinn Library and on the third floor of Lowenstein. Computer center facilities, resources, and tech support are available to all members of the Fordham community with a valid Fordham University ID card. Computer-system users must adhere to University technology use policies. Each center has desktop computers and printers available for student use. Wireless Internet is available in classrooms, offices, and study areas throughout the Lincoln Center campus. Conference and meetings rooms have video conferencing capabilities and smart technology.

The Gabelli computer centers serve students by providing hardware and software for educational projects, research, mock trading, and experimentation, and also offers assistance and tech support for word processing, spreadsheets, database, graphics, presentations, project management, modeling, and forecasting.

Computer Center Hours
Monday to Friday 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.
Saturday 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

Office of International Services
The Office of International Students issues the certificate of eligibility needed to obtain a U.S. entry visa to students and exchange visitors from abroad. Serving as a resource for international students and scholars, the office facilitates adjustment to life in the United States through orientation and assistance with immigration matters, such as employment and travel authorization. Personal advice on banking, health insurance and Social Security cards is available. In conjunction with the International Student Association, the office sponsors and provides access to programs to promote cross-cultural and international awareness.

Federal regulations and Fordham University policy require that individuals in F and J status (including F-2 and J-2 dependents) have health insurance. All students will be automatically enrolled in Fordham’s health insurance plan and charged for health insurance each semester when they register. Students may waive Fordham's policy by bringing a copy of their policy (in English) or insurance card to the office upon arrival. The policy must reflect amounts in U.S. dollars and meet the following minimum requirements:

F Status
- Unlimited in coverage per accident or illness
- $50,000 in coverage for medical evacuation to the student’s home country
- $25,000 in coverage for repatriation of remains in the event of death

Campus Ministries is available to help individuals find answers. The office offers spiritual direction, pastoral counseling, and a safe place to explore life's questions. It provides opportunities for worship, retreats, and service and collaborates with student clubs and outside organizations to provide events that help heighten the community's awareness of God's presence. People of all faiths are invited and welcome to enjoy the chapel's peace and solitude.

Fordham Ministries is located at 113 West 60th Street, Room 217. The telephone number is 212-636-6267.

Counseling and Psychological Services
Counseling and Psychological Services seeks to promote student development. Counseling Services is staffed by three psychologists, a consulting psychiatrist, and several doctoral students in clinical psychology. It provides individual counseling and psychotherapy in confidence and at no charge to help students who are experiencing personal problems. A referral list of private mental health practitioners and agencies is also available, as well as brochures and other literature on a range of topics.

By appointment, a student may take the Strong-Campbell Interest Inventory and the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator. These tests can help in making academic, occupational, or personal decisions. Each semester Counseling Services offers small-group workshops on study skills, stress management, test anxiety reduction, time management, and interpersonal skills. Programs and lectures are also sponsored throughout the academic year on mental health topics.

Counseling and Psychological Services is located in 140 West 62nd Street, Room G02, 212-636-6225.

Students enrolled in online programs can access Counseling and Psychological Services via Perspectives, which is available through the online portal. More information is available in the online program orientation.

Counseling and Psychological Services Hours
