Total Credits 18

1. Monthly Learning Sessions
These sessions occur monthly from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and include:

- the study of different ways of prayer;
- prayer and reflection;
- updates on students’ direction sessions and supervision sessions;
- lectures by the Practicum’s director;
- small group collaboration, in which students practice listening and empathic skills by drawing personal experiences of prayer in a meditative, contemplative, and confidential setting in order to emulate the atmosphere of a spiritual direction session;
- group discussion of assigned articles and videos that address topics related to the practice of spiritual direction;
- role-play activities on issues related to the practice of spiritual direction.

2. Blackboard Discussions
Students participate in eight online discussions (four in each term of the Practicum) on books and videos about spiritual direction using Blackboard’s discussion board feature. Students write a major post that addresses their learning, impressions, doubts, reactions, concerns, and insights (200 to 250 words). Every student reads each of their classmates’ major posts and then writes a minor post (100 to 150 words each) that responds to the contributions of two classmates.

3. Reflection
Each student submits a five-page reflection paper at the end of each semester (Practicum I and Practicum II) that responds to the following prompts:

1. Describe which readings most engaged or challenged you and why.
2. Choose one topic from the readings and discuss how you might apply it fruitfully to your own spiritual direction ministry.

4. Spiritual Direction Practice
Students are involved in the spiritual direction of two or more persons every three to four weeks. This practice begins in late October or early November and ends in May. Students are responsible for finding their directees. In the past, students have sometimes been assisted by the University’s campus ministry office or have sought out individuals from their church, parish, community, and the like.

5. Individual Supervision
Students participate in seven, one-hour supervision sessions while using the verbatim format with a supervisor who has been assigned by the Practicum’s director. There is one supervision session per month from November to May.
For further details, see “Practicum Course Requirements (p. 2)” below.

Practicum Prerequisites

Applying to the Practicum

Applications for the annual Practicum are considered from April through May. The three parts of the application (spiritual autobiography, interviews, and referral form) are described below.

1. The Spiritual Autobiography

   Students compose and submit a spiritual autobiography (three to five pages, typed, and double-spaced) which focuses on your call to seek the ministry of spiritual direction. Each spiritual biography responds to the questions listed below.

2. Interview

   After students submit their spiritual autobiographies, Father Francis X. McAloon, S.J., and Dr. Luz Marina Diaz will schedule interviews with applicants via Zoom. The instructors from your courses in Discernment in the Christian Tradition, Spiritual Direction: Theology and Practice, and Pastoral Counseling Skills may also be consulted in arriving at a decision regarding your application.

3. Your Spiritual Director’s Referral Form

   Students submit a referral form that has been completed by their spiritual director. The referral form should state the spiritual director’s credential, length of the director-directee relationship (for at least one year prior), and the spiritual direction model. The referral forms should be sent as an email attachment to the Practicum’s director, Dr. Luz Marina Diaz (aludiaz@fordham.edu).

   After the steps above have been completed, students are sent an email that explains whether or not they have been accepted into the Practicum.

Upon Acceptance to the Practicum

1. Assistant Dean Patrick Holt will be notified of your acceptance to the Spiritual Direction Practicum. You do not need to register; GRE is in charge of the student registration process for the Practicum.

Once signed, please attach your Welcome Letter to an email and send it to your program adviser and the Practicum’s director, Dr. Luz Marina Diaz (aludiaz@fordham.edu). Your signed Welcome Letter will remain in your file.
