RELIGIOUS EDUCATION (M.A.)

This degree is offered either online or on campus, depending on the chosen concentration. Please consult the Concentrations tab for details.

Please Note: In response to the COVID-19 pandemic all GRE's Fall 2021 on-campus courses will be served remotely. In-person learning is scheduled to resume for the Spring 2022 semester. For the latest information please visit GRE's COVID-19 response page.

The Master of Arts degree (M.A.) in religious education degree provides a deepened understanding of core theological disciplines and opportunities to explore the various practices of pastoral ministry. The degree is designed for those already serving in ministry and those preparing to seek employment in ministerial and educational settings. Those seeking personal enrichment through the study of religious education are also welcome.
