

PUBLIC MEDIA (M.A.)

Concentrations

Public Media master's students choose between a concentration in either Multiplatform Journalism or Strategic Communication.

The concentration section of the required curriculum consists of two courses in the concentration area, with a list of courses offered by our department in each area. Students are strongly encouraged, though not required, to choose courses related to their concentration of choice for their electives and when choosing their Fundamentals courses.

Multiplatform Journalism

Multiplatform journalism includes the production and distribution of audio, video, and interactive web content. Concentrators will gain knowledge of the workings and history of commercial and nonprofit media, deep knowledge of journalistic norms and ethical standards, and a complete palette of multimedia reporting skills.

Courses in this group have the PMMJ attribute.

These are advanced courses in the Multiplatform Journalism concentration of the Public Media M.A. program. These courses may involve reporting in one medium like print—or they may involve multimedia production. The courses in this area include general reporting classes focusing on one medium (like audio reporting or video reporting) and also specialized reporting courses that address one specific subject area (like investigative journalism or criminal justice reporting).
