

HUMANITARIAN STUDIES (M.S.)

Requirements

The Master of Science in Humanitarian Studies degree is a 30-credit program constituted by five core courses, four elective courses to be taken across three thematic areas, an internship or independent study, and a master's thesis.

Curriculum

Course	Title	Credits
HUST 5013	Fundamentals of Humanitarian Action	3
HUST 5012	Contemporary Issues in Humanitarian Action	3
HUST 5015	Information Management	3
HUST 5014	Humanitarian Resource Management and Administration	3
HUST 5016	Monitoring and Evaluation in Humanitarian Response	3
Four elective courses across the following thematic areas:		12
Human Rights
Communities and Capacity Building
Livelihoods and Institutions
HUST 5801 or HUST 8999	Humanitarian Internship Independent Study	1
HUST 5992	MSSH Thesis	2
Total Credits		30

¹ More information about the Internship courses can be seen below.

² You will complete a master's thesis under the supervision of a faculty member on a topic related to the three thematic areas listed above.

Internship

Our New York City location enables students to pursue internships and exposure to various United Nations agencies, diplomatic missions, international nongovernmental organizations, and prominent research and think-tank institutions.

Independent Study

Students have the choice of doing a one-credit independent study instead of an internship.

CIP Code

24.0103 - Humanities/Humanistic Studies.

You can use the CIP code to learn more about career paths associated with this field of study and, for international students, possible post-graduation visa extensions. Learn more about CIP codes and other information resources.