This clinically-rich master's degree program in adolescence chemistry prepares candidates to teach chemistry as a content-area subject in grades 7 through 12. Graduates of the program qualify and are endorsed for New York state teaching certification in Chemistry 7–12.