REAL ESTATE DEVELOPMENT (M.S.)

Overview

The Master of Science in Real Estate Development is designed to ensure that every graduate will have a grasp of the specialized legal, physical, analytical, and management concepts and skills required in the multidisciplinary, creative, and entrepreneurial world of real estate development. Important core elements include real estate finance, investment, law, land use, entitlements, design, planning, market analysis, feasibility analysis, construction, and project management.

CPI Code

04.1001 - Real Estate Development.

You can use the CIP code to learn more about career paths associated with this field of study and, for international students, possible post-graduation visa extensions. Learn more about CIP codes and other information resources.