

INTERNATIONAL STUDIES MAJOR

Requirements

The major in international studies consists of 13 courses, including a senior thesis and a two-course language requirement in addition to the Fordham core language requirement:

Course	Title	Credits
INST 2500	Introduction to International Studies	4
One course in International Politics and Law
One course in International Economics and Political Economy
One course in Contemporary World History and Culture
INST 4000	International Studies Senior Thesis Seminar	4
Select six courses from one of the following tracks: ¹
International Track
Regional Track
Specialist Expertise Track
Select two courses in addition to the Fordham core language requirement ²

¹ For students in all tracks except the specialist expertise track, this requirement comprises five courses approved for the chosen track and a sixth course from either: a) the chosen track; b) any other track; c) from—and in addition to—the language used to complete the International Studies language requirement.

² The two courses may be advanced courses in the same language used to fulfill the Fordham core or introductory or advanced courses in another language. For the international track they must be two courses in one of the following languages: Arabic, French, Mandarin, Russian, or Spanish. For the regional track they must be in a major language spoken in the chosen region. For the specialist expertise track, the selected foreign language must be included in the student's proposal and approved by the program director.

Grades

There is no minimum grade policy for coursework applied to the major beyond the University requirement of a passing grade (D or higher).

Double-Counting

A total of two courses can double-count with other majors or minors. Foreign language classes taken to fulfill the International Studies language requirement do not count towards this limit.
