CONCENTRATION IN PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT AND LEADERSHIP

Overview
Research shows that those who are able to be effective change makers, are the happiest and most successful.

Are you inspired to become a compassionate leader for change, who wants to revolutionize the world for the better? Then this secondary concentration may be for you!

Personal Development and Leadership will allow you to explore with more intention and guidance what your gifts are and how you can develop and deploy them, no matter the industry you desire to work in some day, or what you wish to achieve in life.

Available at Rose Hill and Lincoln Center, this secondary concentration will teach you to:
- Understand your strengths and gifts
- Help you develop these gifts into skills
- Support you in applying these skills to effectuate change
- Develop and support you in your leadership role after college
