SPANISH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE MAJOR

Requirements

Students majoring in Spanish language and literature will take a minimum of ten courses numbered SPAN 2001 Spanish Language and Literature and higher, to be selected in consultation with the assigned departmental Spanish language and literature major adviser. Heritage speakers of Spanish, who are initially placed in SPAN 2301 Advanced for Spanish Speakers, will fulfill the language core requirement with this course and will begin the Spanish language and literature major at this level. (Courses numbered lower than 2001 will not count toward the major.)

All 10 courses for the major must be taken in Spanish and within the department. These courses must include:

Select six additional upper-level courses

1 A prerequisite for all courses numbered 3000 and above.
2 A minimum of four courses must be at the 3000 level or above. A list of courses with the SPAN subject code can be found here.

In addition to SPAN 2001 (or SPAN 2301, when applicable), only two more courses can be taken at the 2000 level, and a minimum of six courses, including SPAN 3001 Spain: Literature and Culture Survey and SPAN 3002 Latin America: Literature and Culture Survey, must be numbered 3000 and above.

Students who place out of either SPAN 2001 or SPAN 2301 will replace them with an upper-level elective course.

All courses counting towards the core language requirement and the major or the minor in a modern foreign language, literature and culture must be taken for credit and a letter grade. When AP or IB credits are awarded as equivalent to the 1502 level in a language, these credits will be applied toward the core language requirement and, as elective credits, toward graduation, but they will not be applied toward the major or the minor in that language.

Study Abroad

The department encourages students to study abroad for one or two semesters. Students who opt to apply for study abroad credits toward their major must have these courses approved by the Spanish language and literature major adviser prior to their going abroad. Students studying abroad for one year may apply up to five study abroad courses toward their major. Students studying abroad for one semester may apply up to four study abroad courses toward their major. Additional study abroad credits accepted by Fordham University may be applied as elective credits toward graduation, but not toward the Spanish major.

Honors

Students who exhibit exceptional potential and intellectual curiosity and have a minimum GPA of 3.67 in the major may choose to write a senior thesis for Honors in Spanish language and literature. Students should consult their Spanish major adviser for advice and guidelines on this option early in their junior year.
