SPANISH STUDIES MAJOR

Overview
The Spanish studies major is an individualized and interdisciplinary major that allows students to combine their Spanish-language interests with their interests in other fields covered by Fordham's extensive curriculum. All Spanish studies majors will develop an individual course of study with concentration on a particular target area or track in close consultation with the assigned departmental Spanish studies major adviser.

This combination of coursework enables students both to further enhance their fluency and correct grammar usage and to further develop their understanding of Hispanic literature, cultures, and linguistics.

Requirements
The major consists of ten courses numbered SPAN 2001 Spanish Language and Literature and above. At least seven of the 10 courses for the major must be completed in Spanish.

The Spanish studies major will normally include:

Course Title Credits
SPAN 2001 Spanish Language and Literature 1 3 or SPAN 2201 Spanish Community Engaged Learning 3 or SPAN 2301 Spanish for Heritage Speakers 3
SPAN 2500 Approaches to Literature 2 4
SPAN 3001 Spain: Literature and Culture Survey 3 4
or SPAN 3002 Latin America: Literature and Culture Survey 4
Four upper-level Spanish electives 4 12
Three Spanish Studies electives 6 16

1 Students normally begin the major with one of these courses, and may only count one of them towards the major. Courses numbered lower than 2001 do not count toward the major. Heritage speakers of Spanish, who are initially placed in SPAN 2301 Spanish for Heritage Speakers, will fulfill the language core requirement with this course and will begin the Spanish studies major at this level.
2 This course is the prerequisite for all courses numbered 3000 and above.
3 Neither course is a prerequisite for taking other 3000- or 4000-level Spanish electives.
4 Any course with the subject code SPAN numbered 3000-4999 (not otherwise counted in the major) may fulfill this requirement.
5 Students who place out of either SPAN 2001 or SPAN 2301 will replace them with an upper-level Spanish elective and will complete five upper-level Spanish electives (not four).
6 Any course with the subject code SPAN numbered 2302-4999 may fulfill this requirement, as may any course with the SPAN attribute code (see list below). Mindful of contextualization and the importance of interdisciplinarity, students are encouraged to take these courses outside of the SPAN subject code. Consultation with the major adviser regarding these three courses, and the possibility of making them part of a thematic or discipline-based track, is highly desirable.

Tracks and Portfolio
All Spanish studies majors will develop an individual course of study on a particular area in close consultation with the assigned departmental Spanish studies major adviser. Sample tracks include:

- Spanish and Visual Arts
- Spanish and the Global Market
- Spanish and Another Related Field in the Humanities
- Spanish in the U.S.
- Spanish and Medieval Studies

Students will be required to keep a portfolio of all their work, provide a written proposal of their unique course of study, and give a final written or oral presentation during the spring of their senior year, in which they discuss a topic that demonstrates the coherence of the chosen track.

AP and IB Credit
All courses counting towards the core language requirement and the major or the minor in a modern foreign language, literature and culture must be taken for credit and a letter grade. When AP or IB credits are awarded as equivalent to the 1502 level in a language, these credits will be applied toward the core language requirement and, as elective credits, toward graduation, but they will not be applied toward the major or the minor in that language.

Study Abroad
A maximum of three courses taken abroad for one semester and a maximum of four courses taken abroad for one year may apply toward the Spanish studies major. These courses must be approved by the Spanish studies major adviser prior to studying abroad.

Honors
Students who exhibit exceptional potential and intellectual curiosity and have a minimum GPA of 3.67 in the major may choose to write a senior thesis for Honors in Spanish Studies. Students should consult their Spanish major adviser for advice and guidelines on this option early in their junior year.

Availability
The major in Spanish studies is available at Fordham College at Rose Hill and Fordham College at Lincoln Center. Students in Fordham’s School of Professional and Continuing Studies may major in Spanish studies only if their schedules are sufficiently flexible to permit them to take day courses at the Rose Hill or Lincoln Center campuses.
