The Fordham University diploma has stood for quality for more than 160 years. And for more than 50 of those years, Fordham's adult degree program has been among the most highly regarded in the tristate area in pursuing its mission—to provide an outstanding academic program for men and women who are also engaged with career or family responsibilities.

At the heart of Fordham's reputation, of course, is the quality of its educational program—a program born of the Jesuit tradition of education and built on the belief that a university must do more than equip a graduate with a particular skill or specialized capability. Few students are more pragmatic than adult students. And few understand better than experienced adults that the best program is one that multiplies their options and prepares them not just for the next opportunity but also for the many others that will follow. This defines the liberal arts tradition and the experience that will engage you at Fordham School of Professional and Continuing Studies. It is the educational experience all Fordham students share.

Fordham School of Professional and Continuing Studies enables working adults and other part-time students to choose among three convenient campuses—or to study at all three as their schedules and interests require. Evening, weekend, and online classes are offered at the 90-acre Rose Hill campus, adjacent to the New York Botanical Garden in the Northern Bronx; at the Lincoln Center campus, in the cultural heart of Manhattan at 60th Street and Columbus Avenue; and at the Westchester campus in West Harrison, just off Route 287, near the Hutchinson River Parkway and Route 684.

At each campus, you will find a full-service school dedicated to adult learners in scheduling, advising, activities, policies, and procedures. Most important, you will have access to the faculty and programs of one of the nation's most highly regarded universities and the opportunity to become part of the Fordham University tradition.

Alumni Opportunities

All graduates of Fordham School of Professional and Continuing Studies (PCS) are members of the alumni association by virtue of their graduation. A board of interested and active alumni represents the PCS alumni constituency. The board partners with the Office of Alumni Relations to provide opportunities that support and advance PCS through innovative programs and events. The goal of all alumni activities is to foster lifelong relationships between alumni and Fordham and to create ways for alumni to share their talents and interests with the University.

The Office of Alumni Relations also sponsors numerous opportunities for PCS alumni to interact with alumni from all of the schools within the University. The young alumni program focuses on the specific needs of alumni who have graduated within the last 10 years. The regional club program maintains Fordham's national alumni network. The cultural program capitalizes on the unique benefits of New York City for metro area alumni. Rampass, the alumni I.D. card, affords alumni special discounts and allows alumni to easily return to all campuses.
